WILFRID BEAULIEU

In Police Court Again Today

Wilfrid Beaulieu, who attended to the murder of his wife, Romelia, at her father's home in Fort street, during the latter part of November, was arraigned in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault with intent to murder, but inasmuch as Mrs. Beaulieu is still unable to leave the hospital the case was continued till Jan. 23.

Judge Hadley said that while there is any danger existing in Mrs. Beaulieu's condition, he would have to allow the bail to remain at $10,000.

Threatened to Kill
Phoebe Gardner had her son-in-law, Frank Clark, in court this morning on a complaint of threatening. Mrs. Gardner testified that Clark comes home drunk and threatens to kill her. She said that he sleeps with a knife under his pillow and on frequent occasions has threatened to kill her with it and said he would kill her alive.

When she said that she would follow him and kill her before she got a police officer.

Clark pleaded guilty, but added that he never meant anything by his threats, uttering them only when under the influence of liquor.

Judge Hadley decided to give the young man a chance, intimating that his actions were undoubtedly of a hereditary nature. He was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

Breaking and Entering
Octave Lariviere was in court this morning and pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering the house of Prager in Walker street, and the bar-

LOOKING FOR SITE

Fiat Automobile Company May
Locate in Lowell

Celebrated Italian Auto Manufacturers Forced by Tariff Laws to Move Their Plant to America—Would Establish It in This City—Will Employ 2000 People, Mostly Skilled Mechanics

The world famous Fiat automobiles may yet be manufactured in Lowell, for the company which makes them is looking toward Lowell as the future home of the celebrated Italian car.

The Fiat cars at present are manufactured in Turin, Italy, and the company manufacturing them is an Italian corporation. Most of the company's business of late, however, has been done in America and, owing to the custom laws, the company has found it either impossible or extremely difficult to import its product to this country and compete with the domestic makes.

The agents of the company in this country have carefully watched the course of political events here and are now convinced that the new administration offers no hope of more favorable tariff laws for the imported auto and hence the company has decided to move its entire plant from Italy to America and begin the manufacture of autos in this country.

The American manager of the Fiat company, Mr. E. Rand Hollander, of New York, is a close personal friend of Mr. John O. Holman, of the Heinze Electric company of this city, and Mr. Holman has succeeded in interesting Mr. Hollander in Lowell to such an extent that he has written a letter to Secretary McKenna of the board of trade asking him what inducements the city of Lowell will offer the company to establish its plant in Lowell.

Mr. Hollander states that the company will open its plant with 200 skilled mechanics on its payroll and that after the first year it will employ 2000 people, most of whom will be well paid, skilled mechanics.

Secretary McKenna lost no time in forwarding to Mr. Hollander complete descriptions of the Shaw Machine plant in Middlesex village and the P. R. Warren plant at Warrentonville, together with other information regarding Lowell and its possibilities. Mr. Holman has an appointment with Mayor Brown for this afternoon at which Mr. Holman will endeavor to interest the mayor in the proposition. Both Messrs. Holman and McKenna are most enthusiastic over the matter and feel particularly pleased because Lowell is the first place to be considered by the Fiat people.

The board of trade will take up the matter at its next meeting and every effort will be made to get the concern to locate here, for business men realize the great benefit that will be derived by having such a plant to locate here.

It is quite evident that President Wood of the American Woolen company, which owns the Shaw Machine company plant, is not worrying over its future as it is stated from what appears to be an authoritative source that he has refused an offer of $150,000 for the plant.

This afternoon, Mayor Brown had forwarded the following dispatch:

To E. H. Hollander, Fiat Automobile Co., New York:

Lowell has all facilities for your proposed automobile plant. I believe we can do 25 per cent better for you than any other municipality. Please delay your action until you hear from me. Special delivery letter follows.

George H. Brown, Mayor.

SEN. BULKELEY'S BILL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Bulkeley proposes to congress in a bill introduced by him the incorporation of the descendants of the signers, meaning thereby the organization of the lineal descendants of the signers of the declaration of independence which was effected during the Jamestown exposition.

POLICE BOARD

May Decide the Hotel
Cases Tomorrow

At the conclusion of the arguments in the St. James hotel case this morning the board of police went into executive session and for an hour or more discussed the charges preferred against the St. James, St. Charles and Richardson hotels.

It was expected that the board would give its findings in the different cases this morning, but at noon when the members left their office it was announced that there was nothing for publication.

It is almost an assured fact that the board will report on the above mentioned cases tomorrow.

The hotel keepers, who were summoned before the board, as well as those who have cases pending in the police court, are on the anxious seat and would like to learn the decision as soon as possible.

THE ASSESSORS

Sustained by the Supreme Court

Harrison Dunham, quite a long time ago, petitioned the assessors for an abatement of taxes on his property in North street. The assessors referred the matter to City Solicitor Hill and he advised that Mr. Dunham was not entitled to the abatement.

Mr. Dunham took the matter to the superior court and Judge Bond sustained the assessors. The latter then went to the supreme court on exceptions taken by Mr. Dunham and the full bench, a few days ago, handed down an opinion sustaining Judge Bond.

LOWELL MEMBER

Has a Bill for Unlimited License

One of the Lowell members of the legislature went down to the legislature yesterday with a red-hot petition in his pocket from Mayor Brown, the policeman-mayor, relative to the issue of liquor licenses in this city.

The petition was not filed, but it is expected that it will be. It is along the line of the petitions filed by the late W. H. I. Hayes to place no limit upon the number of licenses to be issued.

O'REILLY TO RETIRE

From Surgeon-General of the United States Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Reig. Gen. Robert M. O'Reilly, who has served as surgeon general of the army since 1902, will be placed on the retired list tomorrow on account of age, after forty-five years of service in the army. His record includes service as a medical cadet in the army of the Cumberland in 1864-65, in the expedition against the Sioux in 1874 and in 1891, and in Cuba during and after the Spanish war. He was on duty in this city during both terms of the Cleveland administration and was personal physician and close friend of the late president, Grover Cleveland.

Gen. O'Reilly's administration as surgeon general has been marked by a great advancement and efficiency in the medical department, including the reorganization of the corps, the establishment of a medical reserve corps of representative physicians throughout the country, the abolition of the corps of contract surgeons, the initiation of a system of anti-typhoid vaccination and the acquisition of a very large quantity of reserve field equipment in readiness for war.

By special act of congress Gen. O'Reilly will retire with the rank of major general. He will be succeeded by George Torney of the medical department, for many years in charge of the general hospital at the presidio of San Francisco.

OF BAY STATE SOLDIER WAS GRANTED

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 12.—The dying request of J. M. Foster of Massachusetts, a Union veteran and a Grand Army man, that his body be laid to rest in southern soil, was granted yesterday, interment being in a local cemetery.

Mr. Foster came to Columbus six years ago to become superintendent of a large cotton mill. He fell in love with the south and a few minutes before he died Monday night he made the request that he be buried here. He was unmarried.

INSPECTOR DOW BAIL FORFEITED

Resents Interference by the Mayor

Says if He Cannot Run Department According to His Judgment He Will Give Up the Job

James Dow, inspector of lands and buildings, will brook no interference on the part of Mayor Brown.

"If I am not going to be allowed to run this place according to the dictates of my conscience and my own best judgment," said Mr. Dow today, "I will throw the job up."

The mayor and Mr. Dow had a little "run in" a day or two ago. It seems that the mayor was dictating certain things that did not appeal to Mr. Dow, and the latter gave the chief executive to understand that he would run the department to the best of his ability and he did not want to be interfered with. Mr. Dow today refused to talk of his altercation with the mayor.

The men let go by Mr. Dow from the

USE Linonine

(The Flax Seed Emulsion)

Beware of Colds!

Most fatal sicknesses have their beginnings in a simple "cold" or in a slight cough. Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold." Croup—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold." Rheumatism generally follows neglect after exposure and the consequent "cold" or cough. Kidney Troubles, including Bright's Disease and other fatal complications are often due to a "cold" which settles in that region.

Linonine will cure you if there is any cure for you.

Boston Crooks Did Not Appear in Court

Harry Clark and Frank Miers, the two Boston crooks who were arrested in this city during the latter part of October after having stolen three coats from the Putnam & Son company in Central street, have been defaulted in the superior court.

The pair pled their trade with the assistance of a box with a false bottom and succeeded in working many clothing stores in New England. When arraigned in the local court they were found guilty and sentenced to one year in the house of correction, appealed, held under $500 bonds, bail was furnished, and that was the last seen of them.

THE MATHEWS

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR A POOL TOURNAMENT

The regular meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held last night and considerable business of importance was transacted during the evening. Six propositions for membership were received. The society voted to hold a pool tournament in the near future.

The following committee was appointed to name a body to have charge of the annual ball of the society: James P. Bourke, John Nestor, William F. Gargan, Patrick Begley and James F. Riley.

"BLUE" NIGHT

WAS OBSERVED AT THE Y. M. C.

A. LAST NIGHT

"Blue" night was celebrated at the Y. M. C. last night. It was "blue" night for the Blues were acting as hosts of the evening.

First came an unemployed boys class drill in the gymnasium, followed by several track events, among which were the high jump, won by Knight, a member of the "red" team, with G. Freeman and "Tomb" two "blues," tied for second, and the potato race, which was also won by the "reds," that team taking eight of the nine points.

The tug-of-war, one of the big events of the evening, went to the blue team, however, so the men on that side of the fence felt that their honor had been upheld.

The evening closed with a red hot basketball game between the "reds" and the "blues," in which the "reds" were victorious to the tune of 11 to 10, thereby gaining revenge for their defeat on the night in which they entertained.

REV. DR. CROTHERS

ADDRESSING MEN'S CLUB OF FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH

D., of Cambridge at the meeting of the Men's club of the First Unitarian church last evening. The meeting was complimentary to the ladies of the parish. Rev. Dr. Crothers has been called "the second autocat" as he reminds one strongly of Oliver Wendell Holmes. The attendance was large and appreciative. Refreshments were served after the reading of the paper.

The school is showing a great gain in a financial way, and the trustees were highly pleased with the treasurer's report.

THOSE POSTAL CARDS

Mr. Charles Harpourtian claims that the postal cards taken from his store by Secretary Merrill are no worse than sold elsewhere and that if they were obscene the case against him would not have been placed on file. The pictures, he says, are mostly of actresses and artists' models.

AN ITCHING PALM

No Cure for It. Other Forms of Itching Preferable

There is no cure for an itching palm—the money kind. Even position, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to itching, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, position will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with hives, rash, scabies, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of itching, accompanied by severe itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Poison comes in two-dollar bags, but it comes with $13 a dose in curing any of the diseases mentioned. It can be had of any druggist. Tals & Burkinshaw and Carter & Sherburne make a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be simply demonstrated overnight by the use of the experimental sample which the Emergency Laboratories, 31 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, will send free by mail, in plain wrapper, to any one who will write for it.

Today or tomorrow he will send letters to all members of the board of education and city council instructing them to refer all persons looking for work to the municipal register. This will no doubt appeal to city council members.

He will also advise boards of education to refer to the municipal register when they are in need of help. He will tell them that they must do so, and he will go further and say that he would consider their refusal to do so sufficient cause for removal. The board would remove from office any member who refused to do this. The municipal register will be completed for their benefit.

The mayor will ask the water board, health and buildings, health and streets department to pay particular attention to the municipal register system as these are the four departments that employ the most labor.

O.M.I. CADETS

TO MEET THE STRONG CO. G TEAM TONIGHT

Tonight in the immaculate Conception school hall what promises to be a red hot basketball game will be played between the O. M. I. Cadets and the strong Company G team from the army. It will be remembered that these two teams played a game at the army every Monday night, which resulted in a victory for the cadets by the close score of 25 to 15, and thus an exciting contest is looked for tonight.

Mayor Brown to Open Municipal Register

Miss Mary C. Brennan, assistant superintendent of state aid, was summoned to the mayor's office this morning to receive instructions relative to opening the municipal register which is to be installed as soon as possible. The municipal register is Mayor Brown's hobby. The municipal register means a free employment bureau at city hall and the mayor, later on, will endeavor to have it established by ordinance.

Today or tomorrow he will send letters to all members of the board of education and city council instructing them to refer all persons looking for work to the municipal register. This will no doubt appeal to city council members.

He will also advise boards of education to refer to the municipal register when they are in need of help. He will tell them that they must do so, and he will go further and say that he would consider their refusal to do so sufficient cause for removal. The board would remove from office any member who refused to do this. The municipal register will be completed for their benefit.

The mayor will ask the water board, health and buildings, health and streets department to pay particular attention to the municipal register system as these are the four departments that employ the most labor.

ICE IS PERFECT

A force of men, after a hard night's work, has succeeded in putting the ice at Washington park in perfect shape. From now on lovers of skating can expect to always find a glassy coating of ice, fresh every day, at the park. The weather is ideal for ice skating. The new ice skating rink made the park look like fairyland.

HYOMEL

The Only Remedy that Reaches the Spot and Kills the Catarrh Germs

Catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane of the nose, throat or mouth. This inflammation is caused by germs which dig into the membrane and cause a constant irritation. If not destroyed, catarrh germs increase and multiply.

All modern scientists agree that in order to drive catarrh from the system the germs must be killed.

To get an antiseptic strong enough to kill the germs and not destroy the tissue of the membrane at the same time, has been a problem which was never solved until the discovery of Hyomel (pronounced High-o-mel), the Australian dry air cure.

Hyomel is prepared from eucalyptus, the most powerful, yet healing antiseptic known to mankind. Pour a few drops into the little hard rubber pocket inhaler, breathe it over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane four or five times a day, and in a few days the germs will disappear.

The inflamed condition will go too, and the sniffling, hacking and offensive breath, and the discharge of mucous and crusts in the nose will cease.

Then why should any catarrh sufferer hesitate, when Carter & Sherburne have such implicit faith in Hyomel that they offer to return your money if after a fair trial Hyomel doesn't cure catarrh.

A complete Hyomel outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents. Hyomel also cures asthma, croup, sore throat, coughs, colds or grip.

"HYOMEL" sold in every town in America.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Red Banks, Miss.—"Words are inadequate to express what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from a female disease and weakness which the doctors said was caused by a fibroid tumor, and I commenced to think there was no help for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman after all other means had failed. My friends are all asking what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Willie Edwards.

Hampstead, Maryland.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and could not be on my feet half a day without suffering. The doctors told me I never would be well without an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors, and I hope this valuable medicine may come into the hands of many more suffering women."—Mrs. Joseph H. Dandy.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

This is by far the largest daily average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

DETACHING THE MARINES.

The president's order detaching the marines from the ships and assigning them to shore duty promises to stir up as much controversy as his edict on the Brownsville affair.

THE PRESIDENT HIS OWN REPORTER.

The president will not allow any newspaper correspondent to accompany him or even follow him on his African trip. Having contracted to write an account of his adventures at a dollar a word, he does not want to be held down to mere facts as he would be were a corps of correspondents at his heels. Under the present arrangement there will be nobody to contradict what he writes, be it ever so wide of the actual facts. In this case he will brook no scoops and no contradiction.

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS.

For some time past the relations between congress and the president have been rather gory, as it were.

The president started the trouble in his message, reflecting upon the integrity of congress in cutting off a certain appropriation for the secret service. The president imputed ulterior motives, claiming that apparently the members themselves dreaded investigation by the secret service men.

Congress, of course, waxed righteously indignant and asked the president for some justification of his attack. He made no attempt to support the charge by facts beyond charging Senator Tillman of South Carolina with trying to use his official position in purchasing certain timber lands in Oregon.

Tillman replied to the president's personal attack upon him, and he undertook to demonstrate that one statement made by the president was false, while he admitted that he did attempt to purchase certain timber lands in Oregon, a wholly legitimate transaction, carried on without any secrecy whatever.

It does appear, however, that in answering a question in the senate relative to the same matter, Senator Tillman had previously stated that he had not "undertaken" the purchase of any land, whereas, at that very time, he had made application for the purchase, although the purchase had not been completed.

When the whole affair is threshed over, it appears that this slight point on Senator Tillman falls far short of justifying the president's attack upon the honor of congress as a legislative body. Had he been searching for corruption on the part of individual senators, he might have singled out a number of republicans who are interested in certain trusts now regarded as illegal combinations. There are many such in the senate.

To turn the tables on the president congress is bringing up the Brownsville shooting affair with the purpose of showing that the president and Secretary Taft diverted funds of the war department to the investigation of the Brownsville affair, paying detectives for finding out the names of the soldiers who did the shooting. Other matters may be brought up. The president, no doubt, will come back with other attacks, and it is quite likely that the controversy will be kept up until congress adjourns. The president is out of his natural element when not in the heat of a fight. Hence, we presume, he must be accommodated. The senate and house will do their part, and the newspapers will probably lend their assistance on one side or another. But it would seem that both the president and congress might make better use of their time than indulge in such wrangling. When there is no urgent business to be transacted congress had better adjourn.

AS TO PREDICTING EARTHQUAKES.

Considerable attention has been attracted by the success of a college professor in predicting the additional earthquake shocks in Italy that have followed the main disturbance. His theory is that earthquakes can be foretold by a study of the planetary system. He believes that when the attraction of the sun and moon are exerted in certain directions the effect on the outline of the earth is to reduce it to the form of an ellipse. Thus certain fissures in the crust of the earth are opened and earthquakes or volcanic eruptions result. The theory is new and it is not yet known whether it is based upon right principles. One fact seems to be admitted which is that the interior of the earth below the outer crust is in a molten condition, and when any fissure or break is caused in the outer crust either a volcano or an earthquake is likely to follow. It is difficult to believe that regular forces such as the attraction of the sun and moon can produce such irregular results.

It appears strange that volcanoes break forth from high mountains, but in most cases these mountains have been built up by volcanic action. It is rather strange that scientists seem so entirely helpless in their efforts to predict earthquakes or volcanic eruptions, or even to explain the immediate cause. Yet these convulsions of nature are all guided by natural laws, and it seems that a close study of the causes will ultimately result in the ability to predict earthquakes with reasonable accuracy.

Of course of the theory that the interior of the earth is a molten mass it is a difficult matter, or at least appears so at present, to tell where the crust will give way, where an earthquake will occur, or where a volcanic eruption. To clear up these matters it will be necessary to make a special study of them. Considerable progress might be accomplished by some method of sounding so as to ascertain the conditions of the outer crust of the earth. Certain portions of the earth are subject to volcanic action and earthquakes seem to be the indirect result of such action.

The scientific principles governing these catastrophes have not yet been mastered by the geologists, and it is not improbable that they will remain so years still unsolved. The recent catastrophe, however, will cause the scientists to direct attention now to the study and they may ultimately be able to explain if not to predict these now mysterious explosions which scatter such destruction and devastation over the localities in which they occur.

There were few prettier calendars issued in Lowell this year than those of the Burnham & Davis company.

THE MINOR POET

He may not wake the melody chords
That pause to fond and to fire;
He may not voice in wondrous words
The soul's supreme desire.
Yet let him sing—his simple lays
Flow forth so sweetly from his heart
That fortune's lure and glory's blaze
Are naught beside his art.

Oh, not for him the laurel wreath,
And not for him the poet's crown;
But his the fine free air to breathe,
The life of the town.
And his to lighten broken lives,
And spirits overwrought with wrong,
And bring to men and women wives
The source of a song!

When one scans the book of marriage intentions in the city clerk's office or the blotter at the police station and sees there names that would stretch almost from Genesis to Revelations, one is almost forced to think that some parents have wronged their children in infancy by tacking on, when they couldn't resist, a name that was a hoodoo from the jump because it gibbered and made faces at their birth dates. It wouldn't be surprising to find that persons crossed with these outlandish names had been a victim of trouble since they tumbled out of the cradle, all because that name and date set up a war of vibrations sufficiently strong to put them out of kilter with fortune. It does seem as if such names might be ironed out and made pronounceable or at least speakable. The court clerk has fallen into trouble down speech because of his dealings with zig-zag names, and the pen that wrote "Zabazhalotop" at city hall could not be expected to trace legibly the letters in plain "John."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

At a time when dry orange trees are to be seen as table decorations and oranges innumerable are for sale, it is not inappropriate to trace the introduction of the fruit into Europe. According to a Paris contemporary, after its introduction into Europe from China a Carthaginian conceived the idea of scattering the yellow mandarin.

orange upon the grenadier, with the result that we have the blood orange. Juan de Castro introduced the orange from the West Indies to Portugal, and the first attempt to cultivate it was made by the Constable de Bourbon, but after his revolt Francis I continued the experiments. At the time Louis XIV visited Toulon the Chevalier Paul, in compliment to the king, placed some preserved oranges on a tray in the orangery. Ladies in the retinue, it is added, were under the impression that these oranges grew sugared.

The news of the establishment by the Nizam of Hyderabad of a well equipped astronomical observatory in his dominions comes as a pleasant reminder that his interest in science is still as keen as ever, writes a correspondent. The foundation of the observatory owes its origin, no doubt, to the presentation to His Highness by the late Maharajah of Mysore, Nawab Zaffer Jung Bahadur, P. R. A. S., of two large telescopes, but it is evident from the selection of its director, and from the working program which has been drawn up that his highness intends to go far beyond the original intention of the Nizam, Nawab Zaffer Jung. The astronomical observatory, besides the purely astronomical and meteorological instruments, a very complete photographic department and extensive workshops fitted with the most modern tools and appliances for both wood and metal working. The program of the observatory is both comprehensive and ambitious.

"Strenuous is a poor adjective to apply to the Alaskan politician," said W. H. Holmes of Nome, Alaska. "Up in our country it is a real live hustle for voters. I campaigned the Cold Foot country. In it are the farthest northern mining camps in the world. The country was divided in four electoral districts, and I was the spellbinder for the republican party. The country is 25 miles north of the Arctic circle. The northern boundary of these four districts is the Arctic ocean. Point Barrow, the farthest north town, was in one district. From Fairbanks, where I started on my campaign tour, I traveled 5000 miles by boat, by foot and by dog team before I reported back. "In the four districts I rounded up every miner that was eligible to vote. I did not miss a shanty—the miner's palace. Two months after the election the returns came in. Every man I saw voted for the republican ticket. There was not one vote for a democrat. In all 167 American citizens exercised their great power."

Mr. Dillingham of Vermont in the U. S. Senate said of the late Senator Tamm:

Politically and socially Senator Tamm belonged to the revolutionary period of thought. As a statesman he entertained a profound reverence for the character and wisdom of men who framed the constitution and for the provisions of that memorable document. No one realized more clearly than he the necessity for a strong central government of clearly enumerated and delegated powers, and no one opposed more resolutely any tendency on its part to encroach upon the reserved rights of the states. These were in his judgment the foundation upon which our liberties were established and upon which their preservation depends. In the operation of the government he had always in mind the admirable system of checks and balances contained in the constitution to preserve the independence of each of its coordinate branches, and resented with indignation any attempted encroachment of one upon either of the others. He had always in mind Washington's injunction:

Let there be no change by usurpation, for this, though it may in one instance be the instrument of good, is the ordinary weapon by which free governments are destroyed.

He agreed also with John Stuart Mill that

Evil for evil, a good despotism in a country at all advanced in civilization is more noxious than a bad one, for it is more relaxing and enervating to the thoughts, feelings and energies of the people.

He was so strongly impressed with the strong temptation which comes to occupants of the executive chair to make a selfish use of the powers which attach to that position when seeking a second election and to the dangers attending their exercise that as long ago as 1895 he introduced a joint resolution providing that the president should be elected for six years and shall not be eligible for reelection. This resolution he supported in a speech rich in material and of commanding force.

WON FROM YOUNG LOUGHEEY OF PHILADELPHIA

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The New England State Veteran Firemen's league held its 17th annual meeting and dinner at Prince Memorial hall late yesterday, representatives being present from eighty associations. Two new associations were accepted to membership, representing Milton and Carver.

The following officers were elected: President, William E. Maybury, East Braintree, Mass. Vice presidents, Charles H. Ray, Portland, Me.; Henry J. Eaton, Hartford, Conn.; George Hunt, Providence, R. I.; George E. Smith, East Manchester, N. H., and James H. Walker, Lowell, Mass.

By twelve rounds of terrific milling Tommy Quill of Brockton defeated Young Loughey of Philadelphia last night at the Armory Athletic association. In the final round the men at once went into a clinch and the referee, being unable to break the men, belted up a terrific lightning, in which Quill showed himself superior to his adversary in the latter's own game. Just before the bell Quill broke away and landed heavy rights on Loughey's face and with the bell came a well-earned decision for Quill.

Baldness Will Be Unknown in 20 Years

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Parisian Sage, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"And when Parisian Sage is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a balding man will be a rarity."

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one hair preparation that will kill the germs, and that is Parisian Sage. This unusual hair restorer with its record of thousands of cures will grow hair on any head where there is any life left; it is guaranteed by Carter & Sherburne to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and itching of the scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It is the most pleasant and invigorating tonic, is not sticky or greasy and is used extensively by ladies of refinement, who desire to have and to keep their hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package of Parisian Sage. Only 50 cents for a large bottle at Carter & Sherburne, or direct by express, all charges prepaid by the American maker, N. Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NIGHT EDITION

GREAT DANGER

Of a Cave-in at the Oaklands Sewer

The new superintendent of streets, Newell F. Putnam, is a little shy on money, not for personal comforts, but for the necessities of his department, yet the scarcity of the long green does not disturb him nearly so much as does the action of the aldermen in tabling the order to appropriate $6000 for the extension of the so-called Oakland sewer from Andover street to Rogers street.

When the sewer was first planned about 1400 feet was laid out and somewhere in the vicinity of 300 feet remains unfinished. The trench is there, and it is deemed absolutely necessary that it should be finished.

"There is abundance of opportunity for trouble at that point," said Mr. Putnam, today. "Back of the sheathing in the trench there are great big holes. I have had two men working there trying to patch it up so that it would hold, but in case of a warm rain I'm afraid that the bank would cave in and fill the trench. The sewer committee went there and viewed the place and the danger of a cave-in was explained to them. I was rather surprised at the action of the board of aldermen last night.

"I do not purpose to shoulder the responsibility of the situation as it rests at the present time. I have not yet made up my mind what action I shall take in the matter but something ought to be done at once. In the event of the bank tumbling into the trench it would cost the city more than twice $6000. We have banked the sheathing with mud but that would not stand out long against a warm rain."

Mr. Putnam allowed that if the sewer committee members had given the board the benefit of their observations the board's action, last night, would have been different. The matter came up suddenly and Aldermen Stevens, on the spur of the moment, moved that it be tabled till the next meeting which will be next Tuesday night. When the matter has been explained to Mayor Brown by Mr. Putnam, the mayor, perhaps, will call a special meeting.

IN SELF DEFENSE

Dame's Counsel Says He Killed Policeman Sterling

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 13.—Policeman Walter Sterling was dangerously injured and John Dame killed him in self-defense on Aug. 23 last, according to the outline of counsel for the defense when the case of Dame, charged with Sterling's murder, was resumed here today. Attorney George T. Hughes occupied an hour in presenting the outline of the case of the defense to the jury.

Frank Rhodes, who lived in the tenement under the Sterling residence, told of the events of the early morning of Aug. 13. He said that before he heard any pistol shot he heard Sterling threaten to kill Dame and heard Dame beg Sterling not to do so. Dr. John Pattee, who was Sterling's physician for many years, testified that he had been treating the policeman for a "constitutional disease which had effected the patient mentally as well as physically." Sterling was subject to headaches, the doctor testified, and had complained of feeling nervous and of being unable to sleep at night. The doctor on one occasion spoke to Sterling about the latter getting married, and Sterling became so enraged that the doctor did not deem it safe to ever mention the subject again.

Dr. Stephen Young told of meeting Sterling on the day before the shooting. At that time Sterling said that he was going to get married and that the Dames were making trouble for him on that account. According to the witness Sterling at times threatened to kill both him and his wife if they did not stop bothering him.

Several other witnesses, including Policemen Edgar Caverly, Mr. and Mrs. Cushing and Charles Wendell, testified to Sterling having acted peculiarly within a short time previous to his death. Caverly also said that he had heard Sterling make threats to kill the Dames. At this point the noon adjournment was taken.

Fiat Automobile Company May Locate in Lowell

Celebrated Italian Auto Manufacturers Forced by Tariff Laws to Move Their Plant to America—Would Establish It in This City—Will Employ 2000 People, Mostly Skilled Mechanics

The world famous Fiat automobiles may yet be manufactured in Lowell, for the company which makes them is looking toward Lowell as the future home of the celebrated Italian car.

The Fiat cars at present are manufactured in Turin, Italy, and the company manufacturing them is an Italian corporation. Most of the company's business of late, however, has been done in America and, owing to the custom laws, the company has found it either impossible or extremely difficult to import its product to this country and compete with the domestic makes.

The agents of the company in this country have carefully watched the course of political events here and are now convinced that the new administration offers no hope of more favorable tariff laws for the imported auto and hence the company has decided to move its entire plant from Italy to America and begin the manufacture of autos in this country.

The American manager of the Fiat company, Mr. E. Rand Hollander, of New York, is a close personal friend of Mr. John O. Heinze, of the Helme Electric company of this city, and Mr. Heinze has succeeded in interesting Mr. Hollander in Lowell to such an extent that he has written a letter to Secretary McKenna of the board of trade asking him what inducements the city of Lowell will offer the company to establish its plant in Lowell. Mr. Hollander states that the company will open its plant with 500 skilled mechanics on its payroll and that after the first year it will employ 2000 people, most of whom will be well paid, skilled mechanics.

Secretary McKenna lost no time in forwarding to Mr. Hollander complete descriptions of the Shaw Machine plant in Middlesex village and the P. R. Warren plant at Ware, together with other information regarding Lowell and its possibilities. Mr. Heinze has an appointment with Mayor Brown for this afternoon at which Mr. Heinze will endeavor to interest the mayor in the proposition. Both Messrs. Heinze and McKenna are most enthusiastic over the matter and feel particularly pleased because Lowell is the first place to be considered by the Fiat people. The board of trade will take up the matter at its next meeting and every effort will be made to get the concern to locate here, for business men realize the great benefit that will be derived by having such a plant locate here.

It is quite evident that President Wood of the American Woolen company, which owns the Shaw Machine company plant, is not worrying over its future as it is slated from what appears to be an authoritative source that he has refused an offer of $150,000 for the plant.

This afternoon, Mayor Brown had forwarded the following dispatch:

To E. H. Hollander, Fiat Automobile Co., New York.

Lowell has all facilities for your proposed automobile plant. I believe we can do 25 per cent better for you than any other municipality. Please delay action until you hear from me. Special delivery letter follows.

George H. Brown, Mayor.

FIRST REFUGEES

From Earthquake Stricken District Reach New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Bringing the first refugees from the earthquake devastated districts of Sicily and Calabria, the D'Alitalia arrived today from Sicilian and southern Italian ports. About seventy of her 1300 passengers were from Sicilian villages near the quake zone and the shadow of the disaster cast a gloom over the entire voyage.

Captain Cignoni said he received the first word of the disaster by wireless on the run from Genoa for Naples. At Naples he saw the survivors coming by many vessels into the port by hundreds, nearly all mourning the loss of relatives and friends and most of them utterly destitute. At Palermo there were similar scenes.

The one passenger on the Re D'Italia who had personal experience of the quake to relate was Giuseppe Guérine. He was in Messina when the disaster occurred and of his family of six, a wife and five children, only he himself got out of the city alive. Guérine said that at the first shock he and his family rushed to the streets in the confusion they became separated. He searched for his wife and little ones until he had to abandon all hope of finding them alive. Then in despair he left the devastated town. He was so overcome by his emotions that through the vortex he could hardly be persuaded to speak. He came to America to join his parents.

SENATOR BACON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Bacon today introduced in the senate a resolution declaring "that any and every public document, paper or record or copy thereof on the files of any department of the government relating to any subject whatever over which congress has any grant of power, jurisdiction or control under the constitution, and any information relative thereto within the possession of the officers of the department is subject to the inspection of the senate in the exercise of its constitutional powers and jurisdiction."

Speaking of his own resolution, Mr. Bacon said that it was of especial importance because of the recent message of the president, who had directed the attorney general not to give information as to what he had done in regard to bringing a suit against the United States Steel corporation for its absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co., complaining that the language of the president in his steel corporation message had not been distinguished by its extreme courtesy. Mr. Bacon proceeded:

"This is the first time that the denial of the right of the senate has ever been made in such unlimited and emphatic language as that now employed by the president."

Senator Bacon expressed the opinion that the president had not taken a square ground on the right of congress to direct the transmission of papers by the heads of the departments.

"I do not," said Mr. Bacon, "know that that right has been questioned, and I hope it never will be."

Mr. Bacon said that the president did not stop at questioning the senate's reasons for its inquiries, but that he said that the heads of executive departments were subject to the constitution to the laws passed by congress and to the direction of the president of the United States and to no other direction whatever.

"That," said Mr. Bacon, "has been a human language and makes it impossible for the president to say that that language, the president has committed him to the president of the department for information and documents in a department which he said that the heads of executive departments were subject to the constitution to the laws passed by congress and to the direction of the president of the United States and to no other direction whatever."

Senator Bacon's contention on the ground that congress, but the senate did not recently asked for the information regarding the action of the attorney general and Mr. Lodge asked whether congress in the judgment of the senator from Georgia had a right to demand papers from the state department.

"As an absolute right," Mr. Bacon replied "yes." But of course, while congress has the right it exercises its discretion in such matters.

SUIT FOR $20,000

Was Argued Before the Full Bench in Boston

These are busy days for City Solicitor J. Gilbert Hill. He has been engaged in court practically every day for the last week. Yesterday he appeared before the full bench for argument in the W. T. S. Bartlett case. It will be remembered that Mr. Bartlett sued the city for $20,000 for a gravel bank in Mammoth road, the bank having been used by the city. The case was heard in the superior court last fall and went to the supreme court on exceptions by plaintiff.

Mr. Hill will be engaged in the superior court tomorrow on the so-called Walker case which was continued from last week. This is the case in which collision between James H. Walker, who was awarded the contract for the Highland school, and ex-inspector of Buildings Smith, is charged.

On Friday the hearing in the Cowley case will be resumed and will be continued on Monday. The hearings in this case will take place at the city hall.

On Saturday Mr. Hill will appear before the grade crossing commission at the state house. The commission wants to hear counsel relative to the proposed construction of a ramp connecting Kyan street with Western avenue. The plan for the ramp or incline plain is to have it extend from Kyan street to the new grade in Western avenue, running under the new bridge in School street.

SUIT IS ENTERED

Action Instituted Against 50 Local Hotel and Saloon Keepers

It is Alleged That Liquor Was Sold to Minors—Will T. S. Bartlett is the Complainant—Young Man From Dracut Said to Have Bought Liquor

With T. S. Bartlett, the Merrimack street hardware dealer and also a prominent member of the Lowell Law and Order league, has brought suit against a local hotel keeper, alleging that the proprietor or his servants, sold intoxicating liquors to Frank J. J. Coughlin, a minor, and a resident of Dracut, Mass.

It is an action of tort and the defendant in the case has been summoned to appear before the superior court on the first Monday in February. The complaint is brought under section 62, chapter 109 of the revised laws, which is in part as follows: "Whoever, himself, or by his agent or servant, sells or gives intoxicating liquor to a minor, either for his own use, the use of his parent or any other parent, or allows a minor to loiter upon the premises where such sales are made shall forfeit $100 for each offense, to be recovered by parent or guardian of such minor in an action of tort."

The law further states that this does not apply to sixth class drug store licenses if the sale is made upon written prescription of a practicing physician. It is further stipulated that action must be brought within two years after the alleged violation.

The rumor was current during the day that the law and Order league had entered complaints against fifty licensed places in this city, including hotels as well as common victuallers, and that while summonses had been served on some of the dealers, the others would not be forthcoming for a few days.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon Mr. W. T. S. Bartlett stated that he understood that proceedings were to be instituted against a number of liquor dealers and insisted that fifty would not be stretching the number of complaints to be made. He referred the writer to Rev. Mr. Craig.

Rev. Mr. Craig, when spoken to relative to the complaint, said that he knew of no action being taken in such a direction by the league. He stated that as chairman of the law committee of the league he felt that he should know if anyone should. Further than that he did not care to discuss the matter.

Police Board Takes Another Hotel Case Under Advisement

The board of police yesterday afternoon held a hearing on the complaint against the licensees of the St. James hotel, as entered by Supt. William B. Moffatt of the police department.

The hearing was called to order shortly after 2 o'clock and Lawyer Nathan D. Pratt, appearing for the defense, entered a plea of not guilty. The prosecution was represented by Supt. Moffatt.

The complaint against the licensees was as follows: "That on Sundays and holidays between July 1, 1908 and December 28, 1908, said licensees, personally and by their servants, agents, and clerks, did serve intoxicating liquors to divers persons, whose names are to your informant unknown, in violation of the conditions of their license."

The first witness called was Sergt. Thomas R. Atkinson, of the liquor squad, who testified to various visits to the St. James hotel between July 1 and December 28. His direct testimony was published in yesterday's issue of The Sun.

In his direct examination Sergt. Atkinson stated that on one occasion he saw the proprietor refuse to admit two men. Questioned by Lawyer Pratt, as to what transpired between the proprietor and the two men in question witness said:

The proprietor said: "You can't be served gentlemen." One man endeavored to push his way in, but the man was not permitted to enter.

Lawyer Pratt: "On your different visits to the St. James hotel was there anything to indicate that the proprietor at any time tried to conceal the manner in which he was doing business?"

Sergt. Atkinson: "No, sir."

"You called his attention on one occasion to a man whom you thought was under the influence of liquor; did he order him out?"

"Yes, sir."

"Taking up the testimony of witness to the effect that on his various visits to the hotel he saw men sitting down with their hats and coats on, Lawyer Pratt asked: "Do you know, sergeant, as to the locality about the St. James hotel, as to whether there are any cheap lunch rooms—beaneries, so-called. Aren't there some in that immediate vicinity?"

"There is one known as the 'Clam Shell,' across the street. I don't know as to the prices charged."

"Do you know of any others?"

"There are several lunch rooms."

"Have you ever been in them?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have you ever seen people in those places with their hats and coats on?"

"Yes, sir."

"Quite common, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

Chairman Stearns asked: "Did you ever eat a sandwich at the St. James hotel?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was it good or indifferent?"

"It was good."

"Good bread and good meat?"

"Yes, sir. There were very few sandwiches kept on hand. They were freshly made as ordered."

Sergt. Thomas McCleughry testified to visits he had made to the hotel from July first up to the time he was relieved of his duties on the liquor squad and promoted to sergeant.

Witness said that the charge for beer and liquor was ten cents and so far as he knew there was no charge made for the sandwiches. Never saw an intoxicated person served with liquor.

Chairman Stearns asked: "You said in answer to a question put by Mr. Pratt, that between 10 and 12 a. m. on Sundays, you found that the hotel was locked; do you mean that?"

"Yes, sir; all the doors were locked, and in order to gain admittance we would have to knock at the door."

"Did you ever hear the proprietor say to a customer that he should order food first?"

"No, sir."

Officer Grady

William H. Grady, of the liquor squad, testified to visits he had made to the St. James hotel between Sept. 27 and December 28, 1908. Witness had seen some people leave their sandwiches untouched, while others ate portions of the sandwiches served to them.

Mr. Grady said affairs at the hotel were conducted in a disorderly manner and that the food served was fresh and wholesome.

Inasmuch as the testimony that would be offered by Officers Fox and Dwyer would be in corroboration of that offered by the previous witnesses that were not called upon to testify.

The prosecution rested at this point.

Maurice O'Donnell, one of the licensees and the proprietor of the St. James hotel, testified that he had been in the hotel business for 13 years and that there are 25 sleeping rooms in the hotel.

Continuing, witness said: "On Sundays and holidays I am at the hotel from 6.30 in the morning till 11 o'clock at night and usually stand at the door. If I thought the people who called at the hotel came there for food or lodging, they were served."

"I have sometimes my waiters, particularly, that if a man came in and ordered food, and had eaten a portion of the food served to him, that he would later be served with beer or liquor, but otherwise not to serve him."

"I have made a rule of charging for all food served prior to the service of liquor or beer, and since the first of July have discharged two waiters because I was led to believe that they did not get paid for the food served."

"Have you ever spoken to these persons coming in on Sundays and inquired of them if they were resorting there for food?" asked Supt. Moffatt.

"No, sir; I never did."

"How many sandwiches on an average would be called for at your hotel on a week day?"

"I don't know. I think 25 would be about right."

"On Sundays there are a great many more served."

"Yes, sir."

Chairman Stearns asked: "What is your charge for a sandwich and a bottle of beer?"

"Fifteen cents. Five cents for the sandwich and ten cents for the ordinary beer."

Mr. O'Donnell stated that since the first of May he has made alterations and improvements at the hotel to the extent of $4000.

Redmond Sullivan, a waiter at the St. James hotel, testified as to the instructions given him by the proprietor. He said that no beer or liquor were served to people who did not first order food, and that a second drink would not be served unless the food placed in front of the person had been eaten.

Mr. Pratt had several other waiters to offer testimony who were not present, but it was agreed that they would testify along the same line as did Mr. Sullivan.

At 4.45 o'clock the hearing was adjourned till this morning at 9.30 o'clock when arguments were heard.

The board took the case under advisement.

Lowell Reform Club Celebrated Anniversary Last Night

The 33d anniversary of the Lowell Reform club was observed last night at its headquarters in Wyman's Exchange. The hall was prettily decorated and there was a large attendance of members during the night.

An informal reception was tendered the ex-presidents during the early part of the evening.

An excellent supper was served, after which Wm. H. Forbes, the president of the club, acting as toastmaster, called the assembly to order and the first number on the program was a piano duet by John J. Dunkerly and Frederick Bonin. Then the Glee club followed with some old-fashioned temperance songs.

Several short addresses were given. Merry Widow quartet rendered several pleasing selections, after which President Edward M. Bowers of the Lowell Reform club corporation gave the address of the evening. During the course of his speech, Mr. Bowers said:

"The aim of the Reform club is to check, if possible, by moral suasion, the tide of intemperance in our city, and to rescue our young men from the thralldom and bondage of the drink habit and from drunkards' graves, and the club has had a great success in these lines."

"It has caused innumerable young men to renounce the drink habit and become strong and firm soldiers of temperance."

"Our club has had, among its members, many of Lowell's most prominent citizens. Among its charter members were the late Hon. Jeremiah Crowley, ex-Mayor Charles A. Stott and Hon. George A. Marden. Other prominent citizens who have been active in the club's work during many of its years of existence were: John Stott, a cousin of the ex-mayor, and until his decease agent of Stott's mills. Mr. Stott was for many terms president of the club. There was also the late Lawrence J. Smith, who successfully managed one of the largest clothing houses, and who also became prominent in the Order of Foresters, having been elected their national chief ranger."

"The late Capt. Wm. O. Hanson, also a president of the club, was for many years a successful builder in our city. The late John H. Kimball, formerly president of the Appleton National bank; Mr. D. J. Ring, a successful business man on our street today, are others."

"It was on the evening of Jan. 12, 1875, just 33 years ago, that the Reform club was first organized. It was organized in old Maple hall, and largely as the result of the efforts of Dr. Henry A. Reynolds, then a famous temperance advocate."

"The Lowell Reform club corporation was organized April 9, 1886, and has for its object the accumulation of a fund by the members to build or to lease a hall for themselves a suitable building and the promotion of temperance as set out in the articles of the association. The corporation secured a charter on April 21 of the same year."

"Among the many local clergymen who have been interested in the club's welfare and who have addressed the members on many different occasions are: Rev. C. D. Burrows, Rev. Smith Alexander Blackburn, Rev. Hugh Montgomery, Rev. George F. Kenigott, Rev. Dr. Thomas, Rev. Robert Court and Rev. J. J. Dacey, Rev. John McKenna, Rev. Thomas McManus and Rev. William McDonough."

"The Reform club's influence in the cause of total abstinence has been and is, I believe, being felt in our city. It has been a rock in a weary land, a shelter in a time of storm. For 33 years it has stood on the hilltop of truth, of justice and of total abstinence as a beacon light to guide the weary mariner by the rocks and shoals of intemperance into the safe haven of total abstinence."

Water Drinkers Seldom Have Rheumatism or Bad Kidneys

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known authority. "The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected."

Stop loading your system with medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, headache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

GRAND CIRCUIT ASSIGNMENT OF DATES FOR MEETINGS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—After a lengthy session here yesterday the stewards and representatives of the grand circuit tracks selected places and assigned dates for the important harness meetings in the coming season.

The circuits and dates follow:

Detroit, July 26-30; Kalamazoo, Aug. 2-6; North Randall, O. (Cleveland), 9-13; Buffalo (Fort Erie), Aug. 16-20; Poughkeepsie, Aug. 23-27; Long Branch, Aug. 30 to Sept. 3; Hartford, Sept. 6-10; Syracuse, Sept. 13-17; Columbus, O., Sept. 20 to Oct. 1.

A notable change in the big line was the elimination of the famous Readville track, near Boston, which had been in the circuit for a quarter of a century.

John M. Johnson, president of the Readville track, was the president of the circuit stewards and his retirement caused the election of new officers. W. W. Collier, the head of the Detroit Driving club, was chosen chairman of the stewards, and Harry D. Sheppard of Columbus was selected secretary to replace A. H. Moore of Providence.

Several matters pertaining to the affairs of the grand circuit was left to be discussed and settled at an adjourned meeting to be held in Buffalo next month.

I.O.O.F. Notice

Grand Union lodge, No. 7, members are requested to attend the regular session on Thursday evening, Jan. 14, 1909. D. D. G. M. M. H. Cotton and suite of Wolburn will be present and install the officers-elect. Refreshments. Per order. J. E. White, N. G.

INSPECTOR DOW

Resents Interference by the Mayor

Says if He Cannot Run Department According to His Judgment He Will Give Up the Job

James Dow, inspector of lands and buildings, will brook no interference on the part of Mayor Brown.

"I am not going to be allowed to run this place according to the dictates of my conscience and my own best judgment," said Mr. Dow today, "I will throw the job up."

The mayor and Mr. Dow had a little "run in" a day or two ago. It seems that the mayor was dictating certain things that did not appeal to Mr. Dow, and the latter gave the chief executive to understand that he would run the department to the best of his ability and he did not want to be interfered with. Mr. Dow today refused to talk of his altercation with the mayor.

The men let go by Mr. Dow from the

USE Linonine (The Flax Seed Emulsion)

Beware of Colds!

Most fatal sicknesses have their beginnings in a simple "cold" or in slight cough. Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold." Whooping Cough is a condition of a "cold." Pneumonia generally follows neglect after exposure and the consequent "cold" or cough. Kidney Troubles, including Bright's Disease and other fatal complications are often due to a "cold" which settles in that region.

Linonine will cure you if there is any cure for you.

BAIL FORFEITED

Boston Crooks Did Not Appear in Court

Harry Clark and Frank Miers, the two Boston crooks who were arrested in this city during the latter part of October after having stolen three coats from the Putnam & Son company in Central street, have been defaulted in the superior court.

The pair piled their trash with the assistance of a box with a false bottom and succeeded in working many clothing stores in New England. When arrested in the local court they were found guilty and sentenced to one year in the house of correction, appealed, held under $500 bonds, bail was furnished, and that was the last seen of them.

THE MATHEWS

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR A POOL TOURNAMENT

The regular meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held last night and considerable business of importance was transacted during the evening. Six propositions for membership were received. The society voted to hold a pool tournament in the near future.

The society will hold a reunion gathering a week from Sunday at which an excellent program will be presented. The following committee was appointed to name a body to have charge of the annual ball of the society: James P. Rourke, John Nestor, William P. Gargan, Patrick Begley and James F. Riley.

"BLUE" NIGHT

WAS OBSERVED AT THE Y. M. C. A. LAST NIGHT

"Blue" night was celebrated at the Y. M. C. A. last night. It was "blue" night, for the Blues were acting as hosts of the evening.

First came an unemployed boys class drill in the gymnasium, followed by several track events, among which were the high jump, won by Knight, a member of the "red" team, with G. Freeman and Jenkins, two "blues," tied for second; and the potato race, which was won by the "reds," that team taking eight of the nine points.

The tug-of-war, one of the big events of the evening, went to the blue team, however, so the men on that side of the fence felt that their honor had been upheld.

The evening closed with a red hot basketball game between the "reds" and the "blues" in which the "reds" were victorious to the tune of 11 to 10, thereby gaining revenge for their defeat on the night in which they entertained.

REV. DR. CROTHERS

ADDRESSED MEN'S CLUB OF FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH

"The One Hundred Worst Books" was the subject of a most interesting paper read by Rev. Samuel McCord Crothers, D. D., of Cambridge at the meeting of the Men's club of the First Unitarian church last evening. The reading was complimentary to the ladies of the parish. Rev. Dr. Crothers has been called "the second ascetic" as he reminds one strongly of Oliver Wendell Holmes. The attendance was large and appreciative. Refreshments were served after the reading of the paper.
